3. Data Protection Officer	dpo@tuni.fi
4. Name of the register	Student's Wellbeing and Life Skills course unit (1 credit), Summer 2021, first implementation
5. Purpose of processing personal data and the legal basis	The aim of the Student's Wellbeing and Life Skills course unit (1 credit) is to enable participating students to become aware of factors related to their wellbeing and self-knowledge, to identify suitable ways to cope with study-related challenges and to find ways to prevent stress, anxiety, and mood problems.
	Completion of the course unit is optional for the student.
	This privacy notice complements the general Student Privacy Policy of the Tampere Universities community . This privacy notice describes the purpose, data content and procedures for processing personal data related to the surveys that students complete during the course when the extent of the implementation is one credit (1 ECTS).
	Student's Compass

Completing the course unit is based on the use of the Student's Compass (OK). The Student's Compass is a web-based wellbeing and life skills programme developed and provided by the University of Jyväskylä whose materials the student studies independently during the course.

To use the Student's Compass, the student must have a valid TUNI user ID. The student logs in to the Student's Compass with his or her personal user ID. When logging in, the student's login details (name, email address and TUNI username) are transmitted to the service.

The privacy notice of the Student's Compass contains the data security issues related to the web-based programme.

Wellbeing surveys and final questionnaire

In addition to the independent use of the Student's Compass, the student answers surveys that are completed during the course. The student also completes a final questionnaire at the end of the course to verify the completion of the course (the final questionnaire serves as proof of completing the course) and to assess the effectiveness of the course. The data content of the wellbeing surveys and the final questionnaire is described in section 6 of this privacy notice.

The grounds for processing personal data collected in the context of the course unit are a public interest task (EU's General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679, Article 6.1(f)).

Due to the nature of the course unit, the wellbeing surveys mean processing information related to specific categories of personal data, such as health information or information on religious or philosophical beliefs. The course unit is optional for the student who decides which information he or she divulges in the surveys. The legal basis for the processing of personal data belonging to special personal data categories is the explicit consent of the student (EU General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679, Article 9.2(a)).
